Blazing Wreckage Of Airliner In Which Ten Met Death

Ten persons—seven passengers and a crew of three—died when this transport plane of United Airlines crashed and burst into flames just short of its scheduled landing place in Cleveland on a flight from New York. The plane piled up in a ravine eight miles from Cleveland airport, within sight of safety.

Night Line Suspends To Prepare For Fair

New York, May 26 (AP).—The 108-year-old Hudson River Night Line, one of the oldest steamboat lines in the world, is suspending operations during 1938 to repair and enlarge its fleet for World Fair crowds expected during the 1939 season.

The suspension will be the first interruption in the line's summer service since it was founded in 1830.

The Night Line's active fleet had dwindled from 10 ships in 1930 to two last year, which carried 108,779 passengers.

N. B. Rosoff, vice president of the Hudson River Navigation Corporation, said four ships, passenger and auto capacity nearly doubled, would be put in service next year.

He said their speed would be increased from three to five knots, reducing the run between New York and Albany by half.

Miss Olive McDaniel, a blonde, was the senior to whom was accorded the honor of ruling as queen for a day. Gowned in white she carried a bouquet of red roses. The maid of honor was Miss Jane Ball, a blonde, who wore a Grecian dress of blue and carried yellow roses.

The six attendants were gowned in flowing robes of Grecian style in hues of green, pink and lavender and all carried arm bouquets of pink roses. The young ladies were also chosen by popular vote and represented the most attractive of the student body. Little Alice Marie Danahy, the pillow bearer, dressed in lavender, Philip Van Etten, dressed in white carrying the crown of rosebuds, and two small train bearers, Joan and Jean Van Etten, cousins of the May Queen, carried her long train and completed the "royal" retinue.

At 3 o'clock the Kingston High School Band, a 40-piece outfit, announced in martial strain that the procession had started. Arrayed in uniforms of maroon and white with reversible maroon and white capes and matching hats, the band members marched in formation before taking their places.

Included in this array of musicians were 15 trumpeters who announced the various numbers.

They were as follows: Kitty Atkins, Bessie Levy, Richard McConnell, George Clinton, Wilson Lester, Robert Werner, John Brooks, Kendal Vogt, John Warren, Anglo Perry, Mary Kachian, John Mayone, Robert Shultz, Robert Hogan and Ivan Dehoff.

The procession was led by Rob-

Kerhonkson Union School Activities

Kerhonkson, May 26.—The annual moving-up day ceremonies will take place Friday at 1 o'clock. This activity depicts the passing of each class into a higher one. The program will consist of a song contest, plays, speeches, tennis, and archery. The costumes being prepared by the various clubs promise to be even more colorful than last year. The class that receives the greatest number of points in the entire competition will be awarded the Moving Up Day trophy upon which the numerals of the winning class will be engraved. Parents and friends are very welcome to attend.

Graduation exercises will be conducted Monday evening, June 27, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. All seats will be reserved and only guests with tickets will be admitted. Music will be furnished by the high school glee club and the orchestra under the direction of Frank G. Sealey. The following speakers have been chosen to represent various phases of the high school program. They are Shirley Snyder, Aaron Fischart, Harriet Hertzberg, Lila Linger, Warren Lawrence, Sam Goodman, John Lyons, Eleanor Booth and Donald Schoonmaker.

"Council Fires," the Kerhonkson High School yearbook, will be distributed next Friday, according to Harriet Hertzberg, editor-in-chief. This is the first time such an undertaking has been carried out in the history of the school. Because of the historical background of the community, the staff felt that an Indian theme would be appropriate. Miss Vicki A. White is advisor.

The Board of Education announces with regret the re-ignition of Miss Madeline Sniffen, who for the past five years has been an outstanding member of the high school faculty. Miss Sniffen has accepted a position in the Minerva High School. While in Kerhonkson she has raised the standard of the Mathematics Department to a state of excellence. She has been advisor of the Art Club and was this year elected Junior Class advisor. Miss Sniffen is a graduate of Adelphi College, where she majored in Mathematics. She has attended Cornell University for graduate study. Her successor has not as yet been named.

Founding of Annapolis

Annapolis was founded more than 250 years ago and not long after became the capital of Maryland. Still later it was the capital of the United States for a short period in the early years of our congress. It was named after Anna Arundel, wife of Cecil Calvert, second Lord Baltimore. Its beautiful capitol sits on a little knoll and is a gem of Colonial design. In the old legislative hall, General Washington surrendered his commission after the Revolution. The shades of Carroll of Carrollton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence and others, seem to haunt its charming halls. In one of them stand the battle standards of the Maryland regiments in the Civil war, with the Union and Confederate flags on opposite sides of the room, since Maryland was a state of divided sympathies. The World War also has its share of mementos.

Why Dynamite Affects Fish

Because water pressure increases with depth, fish constantly but slowly have to adjust the pressure in their swim bladder, as they move from one level to another, to avoid sinking below or rising above their desired depth. That is why, states a correspondent in Collier's Weekly, when a body of water is dynamited and fish are killed, those that were momentarily too buoyant come to the surface while the others sink to the bottom.

Plover Lives Adventurous Life
Whitehaired boy of migratory birds, the golden plover, rigidly protected by federal laws, lives a most adventurous life. Alone among shore birds, the plover flies a different path going north in the spring than in the fall. On its way from the Argentine to its breeding grounds in the Arctic, it crosses the continent of South America from southeast to northwest and flies over the Gulf of Mexico, reaching the United States at Louisiana.

Great Herbal Emetic
The great herbal emetic comes from ipecac, a tropical plant. The great herbal pain-killer is morphine, a derivative of the opium poppy; this is not grown in the United States. The herbal fever-fighter is quinine, from the cinchona tree which grows in Brazil and Asia. Of medically valuable plants, the United States has extremely few. Perhaps the two best known are cascara sagrada bark from the Pacific coast and the leaves and bark of the common mayapple plant, which are used in the preparation of laxatives.

State of Modern Civilization Told Rotary Wednesday

Speaking in a staccato delivery, which left his audience momentarily limp at the conclusion of his remarkable address, Dr. Emanuel Stern of New York City, came before the members and guests of Rotary in the Governor Clinton yesterday noon with his opinions and observations on the state of modern civilization with particular reference to the role the United States is fated to play in the world scene of the future.

Dr. Stern, educator, lecturer and traveler, was schooled at Oxford and Heidelberg and though English by birth has been an American citizen for 26 years. During that time he has been actively engaged in various good will enterprises which have as their goal the furtherance of social justice and equality in both nations and people.

The text of his address was taken from two books by Sinclair Lewis, the famous satire "Babbitt" and the later novel, "It Can't Happen Here." Both books, the speaker said, are filled with good sound logic and are also a searching expose on some of the real sore spots that trouble the practice of true democracy.

Compared to Rome

Dr. Stern said that the America of today could be compared to Rome in the waning days of its glory, when morals were broken down and when the thoughts and actions of people had dropped to a low level of value. And yet it was the speaker's contention that the hope for the entire world was in the hands of the United States and this great responsibility would either react for good or evil during the next 40 years. Surrounding by hundreds of ills both within and without, the speaker wondered what historian would write of the America from 1938 to 1978. He hoped that the answer would be, "Yes, it could happen here but we refused to accept the decadent isms of Europe and stood by democracy in all that the name implies."

The speaker said that the cry of communism was but a smoke screen in the United States of today and that the thing most to be feared was the possible supremacy of fascism in this country. Only through education of our youth in teaching them the social values and allowing them to then think out their ideas independently could America hope to achieve any sort of democratic success. Dr. Stern was worried about the trend to mass thinking and said it spelled the breakdown of the democratic social order.

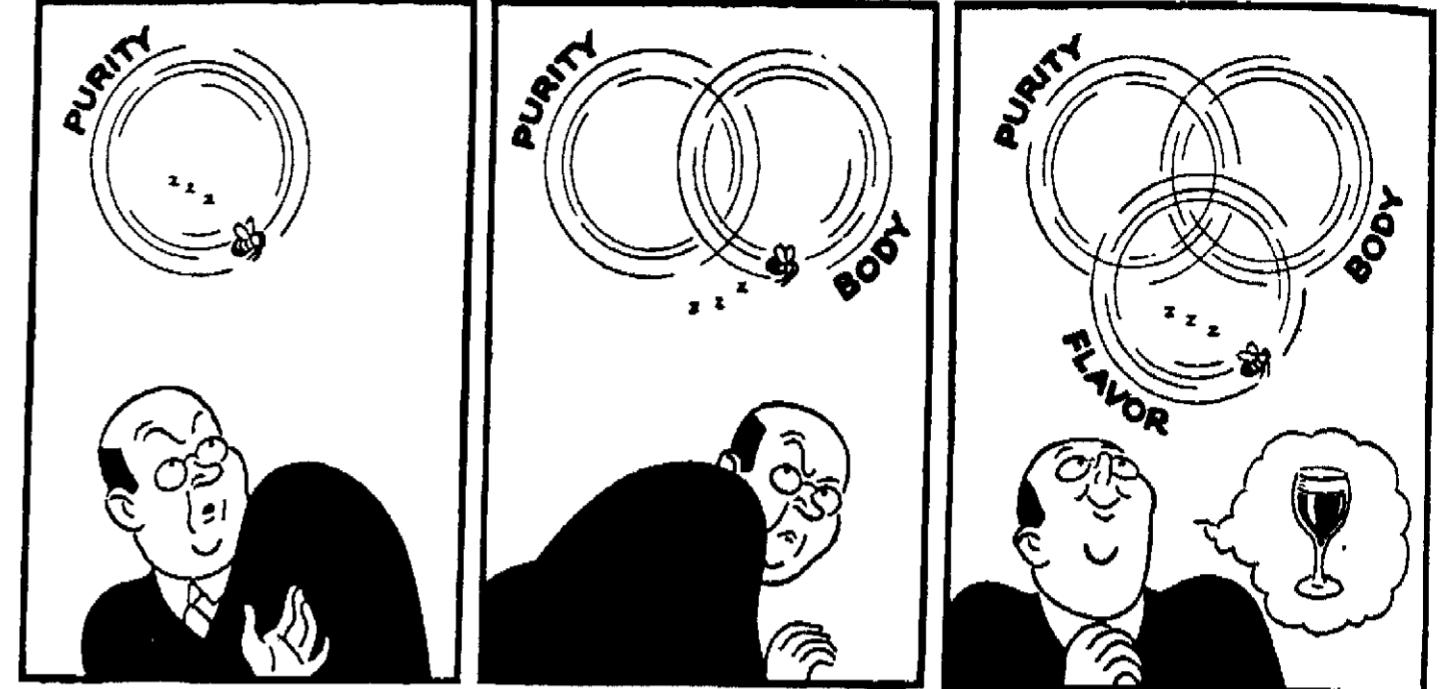

The speaker also stated that he was a little tired of all this talk of tolerance. He said that tolerance was a poor thing at best and brought out his point by the statement that very few members of the Kingston Rotary Club would continue to attend meetings if they felt they were simply being hit with the titled Englishman that takes these differences into account. What was really required was a deep molding understanding between all races of men, coat and the peculiar speech and on the subject of majority versus minority in human relationships and stated that a representative majority is not always in the right and that a minority may be right despite its impotence. He said that the United States was founded on the right of a militant minority that felt majority ideas were wrong and went into action rectifying the situation. To suppress a minority is a dangerous practice, according to the speaker, for to prohibit free expression and sincere convictions breeds even- tual trouble.

In closing Dr. Stern said that truth seeking men here and abroad were becoming convinced that the entire tide of future civilization rested on the actions of the United States. With so much of the world engulfed and decaying under the weight of a variety of ills, the hope of men and women everywhere would be turned in the direction of the United States, waiting to see what road this country would follow in determining the destiny of the future.

TRIPLE HOLIDAY TRAFFIC

"Death patrols the highways," declares State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Charles A. Harnett in cautioning the many motorists making preparations for motor trips over the Memorial Day week-end. The commissioner explains this Memorial Day observance will be a three-day holiday for many, a two-day holiday for those who may not be quite so fortunate, but in any event, it will find a great many cars on the highways.

From past experience an expert brand of driving will be needed to avert the record of fatalities and injuries which have come to mark so many holidays. Last year in this state, 33 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents over the Memorial Day week-end and this figure does not include those who later died from injuries. These deaths should impress motorists who anticipate long distance drives over the Memorial Day holiday.

Automobile operators should make sure their cars are in good condition. On holidays when traffic is congested cars cannot be driven safely at abnormally fast rate. Speed continues to be one of the greatest factors in serious highway accidents. A recent study showed that those who drive at more than 50 miles an hour were involved in 45 per cent more accidents than the moderate drivers, or whose speed ranged from 35 to 45 miles an hour.

The careful operator watches the road far in advance of his car. This will show dangerous spots long before the car reaches them and enable the driver to prepare to avoid them. Curves should be taken gradually and smoothly and on the driver's side of the road. Poor and jerky driving often endangers the motorist and those who are riding with him. Observance of the common rules of the road is essential. Many mishaps result from failure to give other drivers the right of way.

Commissioner Harnett emphasizes the great increase in night accidents and urges motorists whenever possible to return from their trips on Tuesday morning thus relieving highway congestion on Monday evening.

The chief dangers of the holiday tour are generally encountered while returning home.

Tired drivers are inclined to use haste, making it difficult to prevent collisions with other cars or persons walking on the roads.

On holidays serious hazards on the road are children or thoughtless pedestrians who cross against lights or take a position in the path of the automobile traffic. Care should be taken especially at night to avoid those on foot in rural sections. Many visitors to the country, who go out for a stroll along the highways, are not fully acquainted with the dangers and do not realize that pedestrians are not readily seen at night.

Common sense, judgment and courtesy in most cases will guide the motorists to safety, making the holiday outing pleasant as well as beneficial. These words of advice and caution, if taken seriously, may help in reducing the week-end toil of highway deaths.

BABSON ON STOCKHOLDERS

"The average small stockholder is a sucker," declares Roger Babson, the veteran business analyst. "He puts his money into the securities of a company about which he knows little or nothing. The information he receives is vague, incomplete and meaningless. He has practically no voice in the company's affairs. Decisions are concentrated in the hands of an inside group of officials, bankers and lawyers. Small stockholders need a union which would take its place beside the management's 'luncheon club' and Labor Local No. 102. These stockholders should make their influence felt."

As for the trouble the railroads have got into, he says "Banker and lawyer management has run many roads into the ash heap. Stupid handling of labor problems has raised havoc with the carriers. Few of these directors would handle their own money as they have handled their stockholders' funds. We growl about graft in public places, but do the net results thereof exceed the huge salaries which have been paid in private places?" This sort of talk is regarded by many as subversive. Yet it may be constructive. Anyway, Mr. Babson will be hearing from his clients about it, and the comments he gets should be of general interest.

DEPRESSION COST

An interesting comparison in federal debt figures appears in a chart prepared by statisticians of the Industrial Conference Board. The deficits in the government budget for the depression years of 1930 to 1933 added $6,300,000,000 to the national debt. Deficits incurred from 1933 to 1937 added $13,900,000,000 more. Thus the federal depression debt for the last seven years totals roughly $20,000,000,000. The additional deficit of the present fiscal year is expected to be three or four billions more.

Now, the increase of the national debt during the period of the World War was $24,300,000,000. Thus at the close of the present fiscal year the depression will have set us back financially nearly as much as the war did. That is, the government will be set back that much. The people will have lost a great deal more. The war period was, for most persons engaged in their normal occupations, a period of prosperity. The depression has entirely "cleaned out" many millions of families and left nearly everybody poorer. An economic war may be more disastrous than a military war.

COLLAPSE?

An alarming note comes from Geneva. Harold E. Butler, director of the international labor office there, while predicting early business recovery for the United States, is worried about the world in general and even about our own fate in the not very distant future.

War is blocking progress all over the earth, he says, and threatens to produce a "total collapse". He points out that war "is already invading the social field," referring presumably to its effects on social organization, economics and government. "It has already blocked some of the main avenues of advance, and may soon begin to sap the social edifice which this generation has raised. Should another general war break out, a total collapse is practically certain."

It might be profitable for people in general to try visualizing what "total collapse" would be like. Few could form a clear picture of it, but the effort might inspire more tolerance and cooperation among citizens and nations.

RADIUM AND X-RAY IN CURING CANCER

Now that the problem of cancer has become a part of our national, in fact family life and thousands who in former days would have been doomed are being cured and restored to home and business, the question may be asked why is the knife used to remove cancer in some cases, whilst in others radium and the X-ray seem to be just as effective. Generally speaking, radium is used if the cancer can be easily reached.

Dr. Antoine Lacassagne of the Radium Institute of the University of Paris in an article in Canadian Medical Association Journal says, "The anatomical site—place in or on the body—often determines the choice as to what method of treatment should be used. Two locations where radium is the choice because of its effectiveness are the mouth and the uterus."

"The greater part of cancers of the mouth were incurable until radium was used. The front part of the tongue permits a correct implantation of radioactive needles; in others, such as the floor of the mouth or the hard palate, a small radiating apparatus can be applied without great difficulty; in the lining surface of the cheeks, excellent results can likewise be obtained."

Cancers arising in the forward part of the back of the tongue are easily reached and an effective cure obtained by radium. Unfortunately the little glands of the neck, adjoining the mouth, are not reached effectively by radium and usually must be removed by surgery.

In cancer of the front part of the uterus the results obtained by radium have been excellent. In other regions than those above mentioned and in some forms of rapid growth cancers the X-rays give effective cures.

Dr. Lacassagne has this to say of a great many cancers, "Too many cancers, among the most frequent, do not respond in a satisfactory manner to radium, notably cancer of stomach and intestine, of the bladder, and of the prostate gland at neck or bladder."

From the above information we learn that radium is a definite cure (in early stages) of surface cancers—skin, mouth, tongue, uterus; that X-rays are useful in some other cases of cancer, but that in cancer of the stomach, intestine, and bladder, surgery is the best method of cure.

Natives of Burma and India have interested. Lepers used to try to

Texans Enjoy 4 Edition
Acres of Game Refuge
College Station, Texas—R. E.
Callander, Texas A & M. game management specialist, has announced that 4,769,970 acres of Texas land were enrolled in the state's game management demonstration plan during its first year of operation.

"While that acreage was enrolled in 262 game preserve demonstrations, 21,179 other farmers and ranchmen applied game management principles on 3,895,700 acres they controlled and 745 4-H club boys established demonstration preserves on 18,220 acres."

These areas, totaling more than 8,500,000 acres, are designated by 13,265 uniform signs reading:

"Game Preserve Demonstration
in Cooperation with Extension Service, Texas A. & M. College."

Under the extension service's plan, wild life is recognized as a crop of the land, so the demonstration game preserves not only protect a large part of Texas' wildlife valued at $93,000,000 yearly, but they are regarded as an essential in the broader soil conservation program being sponsored by the extension service.

Callander explained that the preserves work to the benefit of wildlife, the landowner and the hunter.
"They are for controlling, not protecting, hunting," he said.

White Filly Has Passion for Glass of Lager Beer

Cortland, N. Y.—This is the story of Snowball and her seven passions. Snowball is a pure white Arabian filly owned by George O. Wanish, Cortland business man.

Her passions include: A glass of beer, oats, hay, sugar lumps, men's neckties (on the hoof), a second glass of beer, another beer.

An indulgent owner grants six of Snowball's wishes, but the seventh is refused because the two-year-old filly may forget she's a lady.

Snowball likes beer better than oats and hay. She can quaff a bucket of oats with the flick of an eyelash, and licks the foam from her upper lip with relish. She'll grasp a glass of beer in her teeth andgulp down the contents with a toss of her head, shutting her eyes to the head.

Snowball likes sugar, will nibble at tobacco and will even make a grab for a necklace if it's bright enough.

We do not recommend that you consult your physician, who should be consulted for that purpose. The complete formula is included in every box.

If we should care to analyze our friends, we can find out how high they rate—by noticing the things they talk about. For instance, ideas always hold the greater mind's attention; and ideas are the only things the brilliant things will mention. But, dropping to the average, we find that each event impresses them, and they discuss affairs with grave intent.

While in the lower minds, it's plain that persons form the base of all their idle thoughts—and talk, so—which will be your place?

This is one of the conclusions in a study of traffic conditions and measures for their improvement which Congress directed the Bureau of Public Roads to make.

The Rev. August Pfau and family have returned to the Reformed Church parsonage from a visit of several days in New Jersey.

Frank Van Etten of Port Ewen was at his state road bungalow Sunday. Mr. Van Etten has planted a vegetable garden at his place this year.

Kenneth and Norman Olson of Brooklyn are rusticating at the Doyle cabin along the Ridge Road. The young men have caled the cabin and made other improvements about the camp.

Add to reservoir attractions, the hundreds of swallows which are now darkening the air in the vicinity of the upper gate chamber. The birds have lined the under side of the eaves of the two stone buildings with their nests.

Mrs. Owens—I wonder if the doctor's wife meant anything personal just now?

Owens—What did she say?

Mrs. Owens—She said we might at least pay them a visit.

JOIN TYDOL'S SAFE DRIVING CRUSADE

$50,000.00 IN PRIZES
($25,000.00 FIRST PRIZE)

EVERYONE who owns or drives a passenger car, motor bus or truck, has definite responsibilities. First of these obligations is to drive a car that's safe to drive.

Let's be frank! What about your car? When were the brakes last tested?

Faulty brakes cause nasty accidents. Your tires? Have them checked often for air and wear. Avoid the great danger of changing a tire at night on a busy road. Your lights? They may be blinding the other fellow, and that means trouble. Your spring shackles and steering wheel? They need safe lubrication to insure safe driving.

Don't put it off! Help make our streets and highways safer! Drive a car that's safe to drive.

The first step is to stop at any Tydol-Veedol dealer, or your own repair man.

He won't try to sell you anything, but he will check your car for safety . . . free of all cost and obligation.

He will tell you what's wrong! Then it's up to you.

WRITE YOUR 8 RULES FOR SAFE DRIVING

The next thing to do is to join up with your neighbors who have entered Tydol's Crusade for Safe Driving. Everyone is talking about it. Your whole community will benefit from it. The $50,000.00 in cash prizes go only to the residents

New York, May 26 (AP)—An early run-up in aircrafts gave the stock market a brief lift today, but the prop eventually gave way and top marks of fractions to a point or so were converted into declines of as much near the final hour.

Volume picked up somewhat on the retreat, with transfers being at the rate of about $60,000 shares.

The aviation group was popular for a while on reports that England was negotiating a large order in the United States for war planes.

Principal losers as the session drew to a close included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Kennecott, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Allied Chemical, American Can, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Gypsum and Union Carbide.

Alarms, rails, utilities and motors moved over a narrow range.

Bonds and commodities were uneven, with a number of weak spots evident in the former. Most foreign securities market lacked rallying vitality.

American Telephone lost ground, although station gains were said to be continuing in the face of the general business setback. Dividend cuts or consolidations again depressed individual issues.

General Motors held to a restricted groove as it was disclosed the company's overseas sales of passenger cars and trucks, while down 1.9 per cent in April from a year ago, were up 6.3 per cent for the first four months over the corresponding 1937 period.

Action for Fraud In Supreme Court

Lawrence F. McHugh of Kingston brings an action for fraud and money damages in Supreme Court against Gertrude and Leo Imparco of Mt. Vernon, N. J. Butler and J. Edward Conway appear for the plaintiff and Charles S. Friedman appears for the defendants.

The action brought by Mr. McHugh is based on a lease which he entered into for rental of a house at Hillson last year. His claim is that he agreed to pay $25 a month rent and that the owner was to supply certain materials for repairs but that McHugh was to do the work. He claims that one of the things represented to him was that water could be supplied to the house by a pump. He claims that the pump did not work and after notice to the owner he had it repaired. He seeks to recover for money expended for this and other work. He claims also that he did a large amount of work in the house and when this work was nearly completed he and his assistant went to the place one morning after a heavy rain and found that the roof had leaked and spoiled the painting and other work. He then refused to continue the lease and seeks to recover money which he paid out.

The owner brings a counter claim for money lost through breaking of the lease.

The case was taken up Wednesday afternoon and will be

Mr. McHugh testified that he entered upon the property in May to make repairs and do work after the lease had been signed and at the time he found the pump not working. The owner assured him that it only needed connecting up or a new valve. When it was found the pump did not work Mr. McHugh sent a telegram to the owner notifying that if the repairs were not made by the owner within a specified time he would proceed to make repairs and charge them to the owner. After the time had elapsed the repairs were made and later a letter was received by McHugh notifying him that any work done would be done at his own risk. McHugh finally had a new pump sent out but it was returned to the Herzog Company when it was found the roof leaked and the lease was not to be continued. Credit was taken for the pump but other small items were paid for and Mr. McHugh seeks to recover for these items which he claims were used in improving the property.

Fruit raisers often look on robins as enemies because of the robin's appetite for cherries. Yet robins consume insects harmful to fruit crops throughout the year, and only during the flocking periods of June and July do they eat cultivated fruit to any extent. As soon as the wild berries are ripe they will form the greater part of the food. One good way to keep robins out of the orchard is to plant mulberry trees nearby. Mulberries ripen at the same time as cherries and the birds prefer them to other fruits.

Lose $10,000 Case Against Church

Rose Bagliebter and her husband lost their action for $10,000 damages which was tried Wednesday in supreme court. Suing the Lillerville First German Lutheran church for injuries suffered when she fell on the walk in front of the church Mrs. Bagliebter claimed negligence on the part of the church whose duty it was to keep the walk clear. They testified that there had been no ice on the walk before the snow or after the snow was cleared.

The defendant denied negligence and claimed there was no ice upon the walk at the time of the fall but that her fall was due to slipping on snow which had just fallen. During the night before the fall a foot of snow had been cleared. The jury returned a no cause of action verdict late Wednesday afternoon, denying the claim of the plaintiff and the church.

20th Anniversary
Of United Lutheran
Church in America

Approximately 15 United Lutheran congregations in Kingston and vicinity will join in a special rally in the Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wurts and Rogers streets, Wednesday evening, June 1, to celebrate the anniversary of the United Lutheran Church in America. In addition to the three congregations in this city, large delegations from Lutheran churches in communities including Athens, Hudson, Poughkeepsie, Red Hook and Saugerties will participate.

Principal speaker at the rally will be the Rev. Dr. A. A. Zinek, former president of the Waterloo College from Milwaukee, Wis. He is a member of the "Flying Squadron" of 100 ministers and laymen now touring the United States and Canada as a foremost feature of the anniversary celebration.

The United Lutheran Church has launched a comprehensive campaign to reach the greatest possible number of the more than 60,000,000 men, women and children in this country now without church affiliation. The campaign is known as the "Anniversary Appeal".

Leaders of the denomination agreed upon the campaign as the most fitting way to commemorate the organization of the United Lutheran Church through the merger of three major Lutheran groups in 1918.

The appeal has several phases, two of which have already been completed in this section. The first is the organization of "Subsidiaries" or modern "Defenders of the Temple", under the direction of the Rev. Carl F. Yaeger, young evangelist. It is estimated that more than 100,000 people will be enlisted in these groups within the year.

Exhibition of the full length motion picture "The Thunder of the Sea" to congregational groups in this country and Canada is the second phases of the appeal. The picture is the most elaborate production of its kind ever attempted by a church organization. It was produced by the staff of the Board of American Missions in charge of the appeal. It has received acclaim of motion picture critics generally.

Ministers and members of their congregations play leading roles in a story of the struggle of the Christian Church through history with special emphasis upon the place of religion in the modern chaotic world.

Dr. Zinek is a native of Nova Scotia. He was educated at the Dalhousie University, N. S., and has served parishes in Brantford, Ont., and Milwaukee, Wis. Interested in educational work, he has been professor at the Waterloo College and Seminary and president of the same institution, resigning in 1927. Since that time Dr. Zinek has been a member of the board of education of the United Lutheran Church in America, and also a member of the board of governors of the Northwest Seminary at Minneapolis, Minn.

CREW KILLED WHEN AIRLINER CRASHED

WHERE TEN DIED IN CRASH OF AIRLINER

This was all that remained of a United Airlines transport plane after it crashed and burst into flames eight miles from Cleveland airport, killing all 10 persons on board. W. A. Patterson, president of the airline, said the ship apparently crashed because of simultaneous failure of both its engines.

Poughkeepsie Man In Plane Crash

Brandonville, Pa., May 26 (AP)—Two men escaped death last night when their airplane crashed into the side of a mountain near here.

The two, Burton Slee, 25, of (20 Barley street) Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Wayne Criley, 27, of Kansas City, Mo., received only minor injuries although their plane was wrecked. Slee suffered a broken finger while Criley received a bump on the forehead.

Criley, a transport pilot, told State Motor Policeman M. L. Clouser that Slee had bought the plane this morning at Lock Haven, Pa., and that they were on their way to Roosevelt Field, N. Y.

"We were flying at 2,100 feet," Clouser quoted Criley as saying, "when the engine began to sputter. Slee, a student pilot, was at the controls. I took over, but we went in a side-slip and crashed into the mountain."

Clouser said it was "a miracle" the two were not killed. The engine, he said, was driven back into the cockpit.

Clouser said Slee told him he had intended to leave Roosevelt Field on Monday in an attempt to break the transcontinental record for his type of plane (Taylor Cub).

Clouser said Slee intended to stay overnight at a Shenandoah, Pa., hotel. Criley, he said, took a train for Lock Haven.

Motorcycle Police Guards

The parade will form on Delaware avenue with its right at Broadway.

First Division will form on Delaware avenue with its right at Broadway.

Second Division will form on Hasbrouck avenue, between Delaware avenue and East Chester street, with its right to Delaware avenue.

Third Division will form on Hasbrouck avenue, between Delaware avenue and East Chester street.

Fourth Division will form on Hasbrouck avenue, between Delaware avenue and Stuyvesant street, with its right at Hasbrouck avenue.

Fifth Division will form on Hasbrouck avenue, between Hasbrouck avenue and Moore street, with its right at Hasbrouck avenue.

Sixth Division will form on Delaware avenue, between Hasbrouck avenue and Moore street, with its right at a point halfway between Hasbrouck avenue and Moore street.

A marshal will be assigned to each division and it will be his duty to see that the different organizations take their place in line.

All organizations will be in position to start at 10:30 a.m.

Distance between units will be five yards, between Divisions 20 yards.

All unit commanders will give "eyes right" salute at 10 paces when approaching the reviewing stand in front of the Governor Clinton Hotel.

If the parade is postponed due to weather conditions the fire alarm will sound 2-2-2.

Captain Charles N. Behrens issues the following suggestions on the propriety of saluting of the American Flag as it passes in review:

All persons present face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those in uniform render the right hand salute. Male civilians remove their headgear with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart.

Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in the moving column is rendered at the moment the flag passes.

The arrangements committee consists of Harry R. Kurnaghan, chairman; Edward J. Wortman, vice-chairman; James M. Krom, secretary; Roswell Cole, publicity director.

Bread Is Bread—by Any Name the World Calls It

Most of us take bread for granted. Toasted in the morning, made into a sandwich for lunch or picnic use, cut round as a base for hors d'oeuvres, probably in the form of rolls at dinner time. We eat it without giving it a thought.

Yet bread is as varied as the peoples who eat it, observes Martha Harmon in the Philadelphia Record. Heavy rye in much of central Europe; the long, six to seven-foot long, white twist is typical of Paris; Mexicans use their tortillas as spoons to lift their other food before consuming the tortillas themselves; the hoe cake cooked in ashes may be the food of the very poor in the South, but it is both nutritious and delicious—and the staff of life.

In the Holy Land, bread is kneaded by slapping it against the stone walls in pieces three feet long and on holy days every loaf is stamped with a design of a saint. In Hungary the people in some small towns bring their first loaves when the new harvest has been garnered and pile these high in the church for the priests to bless.

Egyptian women bake their bread by putting it on the hot sun to bake, while in lower Egypt many desert wives bake their bread over fires in special containers carried along on camelback so they will have fresh bread for the family when the night stop is made and tents put up for the overnight nomads.

In the far northern part of Norway, the women make bread as thin as wafers and several feet in diameter and hang it to season and ripen for a couple of months before serving.

Vandalism is nothing new. As early as 1873, one year after appointment of N. P. Langford as first park superintendent, it had become objectionable.

"The parapets of sinter of the Bee Hive," he wrote to the then secretary of the interior, "have been much defaced by visitors to the park, who have been much defaced by visitors to the park."

A description typical of today's vandals was written by Capt. William Ludlow of the United States army engineers more than 50 years ago.

"The only blemishes on this artistic handiwork," he reported, "have been occasioned by the rude hand of man. The ornamental work about the crater and pools of Faithful had been broken and defaced in the most prominent places by visitors and pebbles were inscribed in pens with the names of the most undistinguished persons. Such practices should be stopped at once."

"That was more than a half century ago, and the practices haven't been stopped yet."

As for Lady Godiva, a Benedictine abbey founded by her in 1043, once gave proof of existence. That, unfortunately, was destroyed by Henry VIII, and while most people still admit that she was a real person, they doubt she ever made the ride. No documentary evidence of it turned up until 150 years after her death and such rides, defectors say, are common in old folk traditions. Lady Godiva's name, the debunkers say, was attached to such a legend to do honor to her piety and goodness.

P.H.S. Strike Ends But Trecharne Gets No New Contract

A thousand High School students ended a strike in protest against dismissal of an assistant principal here today as approximately 200 pupils in a similar school in South Glens Falls, N. Y., "walked out", according to The Associated Press.

J. Schuyler Fox, principal of the Poughkeepsie school, said that the 1,000 boys and girls who refused to return to the building yesterday noon, unless Thomas O. Trecharne, assistant principal, was re-engaged, came back peacefully today.

Trecharne's contract was not renewed. The Parent-Teacher Association of the school named a committee to investigate the walk-out last night after Mayor V. L. Spratt said:

"I would like to spank, personally, each of the offenders, if I had time."

Today at South Glens Falls, about 200 of the 325 pupils ran from the building shouting "strike" as soon as roll call was taken.

Pupils have demanded the appointment of Roscoe Williams, science teacher, as principal, instead of Floyd D. Newport, Glens Falls, selected by the board of education.

George Schoentag Fell to His Death

George C. Schoentag, a former resident of Saugerties, accidentally fell to his death at the Clinton Avenue subway station in Brooklyn on Tuesday, a train hitting him after the fall. The fatality occurred at 11:30 a. m. Mr. Schoentag was 59 years of age. He was a son of the late Christian Schoentag, who for years conducted the Schoentag Hotel on 9-W highway at Glens Falls. Mr. Schoentag is survived by his wife, Louise Schoentag; four sisters, Mrs. Marie Behringer of Brooklyn, Mrs. Rose Hildebrandt of Poughkeepsie, and Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mrs. Teena Donovan of Saugerties, and one brother, Christy W. Schoentag, of Saugerties. Funeral services will be held at the Wiegand Bros. Funeral Home, Brooklyn, Saturday morning at 10:30. Interment in Lutheran Cemetery.

George M. Carpenter of 152 Elmendorf street was arrested this morning on a charge of driving a car with four adults riding in the front seat. The hearing was set down for later.

Fred Faust, who has been working on Long Island, came to Kingston Wednesday afternoon and that evening when he met a couple of colored men on North Front street he said he asked them if they were from New Orleans. He said that he thought he might have insulted them and ran and hid in a backyard where he was found by the police. He told the police he had ducked into the backyard to get away from the two men. He claimed he had a job waiting him on the farm, and Judge Cahill told him that while his story sounded fishy he would give him an opportunity of getting out of town.

"I wonder," he asked coldly, "if Mr. Shalick ever heard of a grand jury voting an indictment but the indictment not being filed at once."

In ordering the arrest of the long impregnable political czar of the upper west side, Dewey challenged the staunchest foe of his career as a racket-buster.

"Better Prepared" Rock Island, Ill., May 26 (AP).—America's military machine, in the opinion of Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, probably is better prepared than ever before but needs further strengthening. "We are not yet ready, if called upon, to take the field in defense of America," he said last night in an address to the Army Ordnance Association.

The sonnet originated in Italy in the 13th century and was adapted by English poets in the 16th century.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Adonai Lodge Held
O.E.S. Reception

Highland, May 26.—Matthew Busch, master of Adonai Lodge No. 718 F. & A. M., presided Monday night when the lodge entertained members of the Order of Eastern Star, their wives and friends. While the large audience were gathered Elmer Fisher entertained with musical selections at the organ. Following a prayer by the Rev. Samuel A. MacCormac, pastor of the Methodist church, a quartet composed of: Harold Sutton, Ralph Johnson, Lorth E. Osterhout, Dr. Victor Salvatore sang three numbers, "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," "Off in the Stilly Night," and a humorous number as an encore.

Mr. Busch introduced Jacob J. Donovan, senior warden, who gave a welcome and introduced the speaker, Frederic Snyder, news correspondent. Mr. Snyder said he traveled 1,000 miles a week and had covered 150 miles to be present, and was leaving within a few days for Prague. He then gave a general talk on news and what made news and what, to him, constituted better front page news than war and suicides.

Imagination takes a spring flight at the New Universal, as witness this from a studio bulletin board: "Memo—To all Department Heads—From Charles R. Rogers—Please be advised that the College Series will be entitled as follows—

'Freshman Year'
'Sophomore Year'
'Junior Year'
'Senior Year'
(Signed) Charles R. Rogers."

Fritz Lang, who directed Sylvia Sidney and George Raft in "You and Me," gives credit where it's due:

"Acting and directing are two entirely separate phases of picture-making. Therefore all credit for a fine piece of acting should go to the actor. Naturally it is the director who paces the picture and endeavours to secure an effective blend of performances that will result in a quality production. But he can't, no matter how hard he tries, draw from an actor a performance beyond that individual's own emotional ability. All glory for acting should go to the actors."

NAZI HUMOR shaped effigy of former chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg in anti-Schuschnigg exhibit at Tulln, Austria. Schuschnigg, whose plebiscite call precipitated German seizure of Austria, is reported virtual prisoner in Vienna.

The Tower of Babel, according to Herodotus, was 610 feet high.

Miss McDaniel Is Crowned Queen

Mr. G. C. McDaniel, president of the A. S. and T. M. M. S. president, president of the Letter Club, who carried the Senior Class banner. Directly behind them came Joseph Kearns, the prime minister, who later in the honor of crowning the Queen, the lovely queen and her attendants were seated on the platform decorated in green and the prime minister addressed the crowd as follows:

Prime Minister's Speech
Another May Day has passed. Another Senior Class is on the threshold of graduation and another May Queen is to be chosen. One who surpasses all others in beauty and grace. As Prime Minister, I thank the students, the faculty and all other visitors who have come to enjoy the entertainment and games that are to be presented for our Queen's entertainment.

Before presenting the fests, I would like to tell of the events of our class. Every class has outstanding members and achievements but to me the class of '38 stands out because of its social tendencies. This class established a precedent by choosing, with the approval of third year students, a standard emblem as the crest of Senior jewelry. It is the desire of its members that some day this emblem will be the official seal of Kingston High School and that it will adorn the school's stationary, banner and other school equipment. The class again broke through tradition when it chose the cap and gown as graduation apparel. The boys and girls who are graduating in June are honored to have as one of them a girl who has been chosen as Ulster county's first Apple Blossom Queen. There is no need to mention her name. This 1938 group also boasts many of K. H. S. star athletes, boys who have upheld the laurels of the school ever since their enrollment. I have tried to keep a proper air of modesty while I have tried to tell you of our exploits but now my enthusiasm has given the better of me when I say that we expect to be the largest class ever to be graduated from Kingston High School.

It would be a sacrilege if we did not thank Mother Nature for the beautiful day she has granted us. So, mentally we offer our thanks.

"It is indeed a pleasure on behalf of the Senior Class of '38 to crown Olive McDaniel Queen of May."

Rising to address her subjects the queen spoke as follows:

Queen's Address

"Mr. President, fellow students, ladies and gentlemen, welcome one and all to our May Day festivities. It is our wish that you will enjoy this traditional celebration of May Day."

"May has generally been regarded as a time for gladness. It marks the bursting into life and beauty of a new spring. From an early period to the present day, general festivities have taken place celebrating the joy that is brought to life at this season. In this country May Day's celebration mainly in girls' colleges, and a few high schools. Kingston is proud to number its high school among those few."

"I wish to extend to the senior class my heartfelt thanks for the honor they have bestowed upon me. I am the happiest of queens.

"Again we welcome you, and urge you to enjoy with us the entertainment prepared by members of the faculty and the student body."

One of the most important events was the announcement of the winners of the Maroon Literary Contest. At the conclusion of the queen's address the awards were made by Elizabeth Heaps, editor-in-chief of the Maroon, to the following contestants. First prize in the junior-senior division went to Virginia Boggs for her story, "Whill Nise Is Weeping." Second prize in the same division went to Mary Adeline Summers for her story, "Hasta Manana." Honorable mention was given to Jean Sobey's poem, "Nobe" and Justice Rowe's story, "The Late Mr. Herringbone."

In the freshman-sophomore division Charles Fawker was awarded first prize for his story "On Philately" and second prize to Priscilla DuMond for the story, "The First Snow." Charles Fawker also received honorable mention for his story, "Forest Fire."

The royal entertainers then presented a program of drills, marches, folk dances and chariot races.

First to appear was the high school band under the direction of Miss Eva Clinton and led by Paul Young, student director, which did several drills. The prime minister then called for the drum major to come forward and in recognition of four years of service he was presented with a rose from the queen's bouquet.

This was followed by a Wand Drill by Edward Sylvester's gym boys: William Stueter, Henry Dobie, Frank Mazzuca, Robert Hawksley, Frank Brooks, John Enright, Louis Chase, Jack Fallon, John Bigler, Jack Malia, Louis Kriegloski, William Van Kleeck, Robert Anderson, William O'Toole, Irving Rose, Leo Herbert, Patrick Bowers, Melvin Samuels, Clifford Parslow and Ernest Sabo. The same boys also appeared in the acrobatic offerings of tumbling, pyramids and the elephant jumps.

The chariot races, always an exciting feature of the day's activities, was the next entertaining feature. The races, called by Jean Guida were won by the junior boys and the sophomore girls.

The senior racers included Alfred Cecelia and Ernest Sabo with Amy Munn as the rider. The junior drivers were Kenneth Douglas and William Stueter with Frances Doole as the rider. For the sophomores were Frank Mazzuca and Clifford Parslow with Helen Lowe as the rider. Louis Kriegloski and Jack Malia were the freshmen drivers while Helen Konuk drove for the freshmen and John Bigler rode.

The winners of the boys and girls in these races were honored by kissing the hand of the May Queen.

Next came the girl's gym classes giving four folk dances, the style dresses in pink and blue pastels.

The following girls assisted in this entertainment: Marian Smith, Marie Conlin, Frances Wilhach, Mildred Davis, Nellie Winters, Edith Ellison, Mary Woicki, Florence Morton, Geraldine Ratchie, Elaine Johnson, Genevieve Whately, Betty Haggerty, Phyllis Van Wagner, Rhoda Neher, Louise Shultz, Elsie Taylor, Marian Remus, Lillian Ewell, Norma Thiel, June Houst, Jean Moot, Florence Britt, Shirley Sherry, Rosalie Stark, Rose Maggiore, Anne Tresville, June Stoutenburg, Eleanor Morehouse, Grace Carter, Charlotte Osterhoudt, Anna Leyder, Emma Tiano, Anita Crough, Mary Smith, Jane Gildersleeve, Frances Barnhardt, Doris Pine, Florence Albricht, Leone Wilcox, Peggy Oakley, Angelo Geffoch, Anna McLean, Florence Crosswell, Patricia Lausa, Mildred Reynolds, Gloria Windram, Lillian Terwilliger, Eleanor DeMarte, Helen Fitzsimmons, Shirley Doyle, Frieda Loomis, Phyllis Fitzgerald, Catharine Fitzsimmons, Louella Soper, Margaret Shultz, Betty Dittmar, Carolyn Newkirk, Helen Reinold, Nancy Boice, Madeline Freer, Dorothy Ewell, Marian Bartell, Dorothy Nichols and Ellen Long.

The same boys that had appeared in the Wand Drill returned to give a demonstration of acrobatics which consisted of tumbling acts, pyramids and elephant jumping.

At the same time as this was going on the May pole was being wound by the same girls who had given the folk dance.

Musical interludes during the program were provided by the high school band. Humor was created by three clowns, Leo Herbert, Russell Boice and Irving Rose.

The production was staged under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Smith with the assistance of John Dutcher, who had charge of the costumes of the chariot racers and full charge of the decoration of the chariots and the ladders used in the acrobatic drill.

The clowns also had charge of placing and removing the carpet on which the queen and her attendants walked.

Jeanette Ray, pianist, and John Ward, saxophonist, accompanied the folk dances.

The winners of the boys and girls in these races were honored by kissing the hand of the May Queen.

The speeches were clearly carried to all parts of the field by the new high school loudspeaker.

The colorful pageantry, athletic competitions, dances and drills made the May Day celebrations fully satisfying to the many spectators.

One activity scheduled to appeared, the pole vaulting, was not given due to the injury of the two boys who were to have participated.

Highway travel is predominately a short-distance movement and less than two out of every 100 vehicles observed on main highways are traveling more than 100 miles to reach their destinations. Eight out of 10 are traveling less than 20 miles.

First—Cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine. Saves hours on a big washing.

Second—Soaks dirt out in 15 minutes. No scrubbing or boiling needed. Even "tough" spots come clean and white with a few quick rubs.

Third—Gets clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter as proved by scientific Tintometer tests. These tests showed that, cup for cup, OXYDOL soaks clothes as white in 15 minutes as less efficient granulated soaps did in three-quarters of an hour.

And yet, with all these advantages, OXYDOL is extremely economical to use! Tests show that, cup for cup, OXYDOL gives 28% to 60% more suds than popular package soaps, goes one-third way funds against such raids through provisions in their constitutions similar to the amendments proposed for New York," he declared, "and in four other states the legislatures have voted favorably on amendments of this kind, which will become effective just as soon as the people vote on them.

Pictures Expenditure

"The 61 million dollars of which our roads are annually robbed is a colossal sum," he declared. "It would build three super-highways costing $75,000 a mile from one border of the state to the other, for example from Albany to Buffalo. If our highway money were kept where it belongs, we could rebuild our present highway system, making obsolete roads wider and safer. We could stimulate employment during recessions like the present one by putting an additional 6,000 men to work on the highways. On the basis of four to family, that means we could take 260,000 people off our relief rolls."

"Here in New York State we have grown callous to these yearly farces. Otherwise, there would be an angry uproar at the expenditure of a paltry one-third of our highway funds for roads. Diversion in this state has become so bad that some of our roads aren't even safe."

"In the past few years highway accidents have been widely publicized. Most of us have participated in safety campaigns. We are admonished to drive carefully and save lives, but scores of fatal accidents occur on New York highways every year that could be prevented if the money motorists are paying for travel insurance were really used to eliminate danger spots, to straighten curves, to eradicate blind corners, to erect guard rails where needed, and to eliminate dangerous rail or road grade crossings. Nearly 1,000 railroad grade crossings could be eliminated annually with the money that is now being diverted."

Not Getting Protection

"The people of New York state are paying for travel protection which they are not getting. Think of the scandal that would occur if an insurance company did the same thing the state is doing and failed to give the people the protection for which their insurance premiums were paid!"

Mr. Green suggested that members of the Kiwanis Club let their delegates know that they favor an amendment of this kind, and he pointed out that the 29th Senatorial District, in which Kingston is, has three delegates to the Constitutional Convention, namely: Philip Elting of Kingston; Seth T. Cole of Catskill; and Arthur F. Boulton of Roxbury.

"As citizens of the state, we have both the right and the duty to inform our delegates as to what we expect of them," he said. "The only way the delegates can pos-

TAMMANY LEADER ARRESTED

James J. Hines, a prominent leader in New York's Tammany Hall, was arrested in the office of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey on a charge of "contriving, proposing and drawing a lottery." Dewey, arch enemy of Tammany, appeared personally at Hines' arraignment and asked that bail be fixed at $50,000. Hines (right), smiles broadly as he is booked at police headquarters in New York.

Chessmen of 4,000 B. C. Are Uncovered in Iraq

Philadelphia. — A collection of 6,000-year-old chessmen has been uncovered in northern Iraq by a joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania museum and the American School of Oriental Research in Bagdad. A report from the archeologists said small terra-cotta gaming pieces, shaped like human figures and resembling closely some of those used in various stages of the development of chess, were found in the ancient city of Tepe Gawra, scene of extensive excavations since its discovery in 1927. The chessmen were uncovered on a level of the city which was built in the el-Obeid period, dating from the time of southern Mesopotamia's earliest settlements, archeologists reported.

Dr. E. A. Speiser, director of the Bagdad school and professor of Semitics at the university here, who discovered the site of the ancient city, said the Tepe Gawra gaming pieces were the first indication that chess, or its prototype, provided a diversion for the prehistoric Mesopotamians of about 4,000 B. C.

Those Dismissed.

Among the matters which the grand jury investigated and in which no bills were found were the following:

John J. Ilart, who it is charged cashed checks in Woodstock. They were of small amount and the grand jury recommended that the matter be sent back to the justice for disposition.

John R. Daley, who had been held for taking an automobile at Walker Valley.

Chester L. Miller, being held for abduction of a Tongore girl.

Vernon Wood and Charles

Chase, who were arrested for chicken stealing at Oliverea.

Charles B. Osterhoudt, who had been charged with taking beer coils from a former partner.

Salvatore Ferraro, who had been held on a rape charge.

John J. Harnett, Jr., who had been held for assault. This charge took place at a local theatre and the grand jury recommended that the matter be disposed of in city court.

In all cases where the defendants were in custody and no bill was found they were discharged by the court, and in cases where bail had been posted the bail was exonerated.

All criminal matters were transferred to county court.
